Dear Parents,

This morning the primary classes and families gathered at assembly to share our weekly acknowledgement of Noongar country, bless our school and today we blessed our new school bell. My, what a loud clear signal it sends across our land to let the playing children know that it's time to return to their classrooms for more learning! Congratulations to Anna, the Koorrdjenangin class and the parent helpers for constructing such a fine and sturdy bell tower.

Congratulations to Megan and the Wayfarers for their outstanding performances of 'Persephone' at the Parkerville Hall last Thursday and Friday. The dedication to preparations, rehearsal and creating of costumes and props was evident in the performances and they were enjoyed by the primary classes and parents on Thursday afternoon and again by many families on Friday evening.

Last night was the Silver Tree Steiner School Annual General Meeting. Thank you to everyone who came along to support the Board of Governors and all of those committee representatives who presented their annual reports. When you hear the reports all together it makes you realize just what a busy school we are! Two new members were voted onto the Board of Governors at the AGM and on behalf of the school I would like to welcome Bruce Uchiyama-Lee and May Wang. Previous Board member and long-time Silver Tree supporter, John Taylor was remembered fondly at the AGM after he crossed the threshold from this life last Thursday. John served on the Board for three years as Treasurer, worked as a relief teacher and was a mentor to many teachers. Our thoughts and blessings are with John's family as we honour his contribution to Steiner Education in WA.

Blessings

CALENDAR OF THE SOUL

The light that burns within me – hidden, silent, deep,
It streams with power like the sun from realms of sleep.
It fills my heart with joy. It gives me strength and gladness
And lets me shine to others too, to heal their sadness.
When fire burns and I am master of this fire,
Then, pouring light upon me, Heaven's Sons inspire
My work, and I can do God's deeds as they require.

NEWS FROM THE CLASSROOM

EARLY CHILDHOOD CHATTER

The children are beginning to settle into the more unpredictable weather that is so typical of Autumn and Winter. They find towels to dry the monkey bars and bring the hammocks in out of the rain. Raincoats come to school and are put on discarded as the weather dictates, as are the rain boots. Thank you to whoever returned the lovely 'rainbow boots' that went on their own adventure last week. Their owner was thrilled to have them back.

Bush walks have begun and the children are embracing them with enthusiasm. No matter what the children might tell you they all seem to enjoy them. Often those most vocally unenthusiastic are the very ones running ahead and exploring in front of everyone else. Remember that parents and younger siblings are always welcome to come with us. If you are lucky you will pick a glorious sunny morning.

Many children still do not have lightweight slippers at school. Please send some in as soon as possible, named please. Thank you for remembering the layers of clothing and the spare clothing, especially on bush walk days. A t-shirt and heavy jumper does not allow enough flexibility. They children need long-sleeved shirts as well so they can layer up.

Some of you will receive this in time for us to remind you of our parent night tonight! Wednesday 14th May, at 6.30 for a 6.45 start. See last week's newsletter for details.

ALCHEMISTS NEWS

One of the things that the children learn to do from class one onwards is to tell news. Although this may seem like a trivial part of the school day it is in fact one of the things the children and teacher loves the most. Moreover, it provides the teacher with some wonderful (funny) insights into life at home (nothing travels beyond the classroom) and the various interests the children have. It is also a stepping-stone to performing in the class play and starts to develop public speaking skills, which requires great confidence and a clear, articulate, audible voice. Some children find this immensely confronting, whilst others take it completely in their stride and even don't mind picking their nose or eating their hair while they're at it! We've had teddy bears, a goat, a dog, a rabbit, a guinea pig, crystals, craft items – all manner of delightful stories and props.

At the end of last term Belle told her news about a very special tooth fairy who came to visit her in the night. Belle decided it would be wonderful to tell the class her news and she even brought the letter that the fairy had written which I read with great honour to the class. It put a great big smile on my face so I asked this fairy if she wouldn't mind me sharing it with the rest of the Silver Tree community, to which she simply giggled, so I'm assuming that meant yes!! Enjoy...

Dear Belle,

This is fairy Sparkle-Bottom. Thank-you for your beautiful tooth. Unfortunately I had a little accident last night. You see, I was swapping your tooth for some magic fairy dust when a bit got up my nose and made me sneeze very loudly. So loudly in fact, that it woke up your cat Truffles. She glared at me with big hungry cat eyes, and...well, as you can imagine I was frightened out of my wits!! I had to think quickly. I fumbled in my fairy purse for some magic protecting dust, but just as I found it Truffles pounced straight on me. Eeeeeee. I threw the dust on her just in time, well, almost in time. You see in my panic I must have pulled out the wrong dust, and I feel terrible to have to tell you this, but the dust I pulled out was NOT magic protecting dust, it was magic 'turn-into-a-chicken' dust. And so your cat Truffles was turned into a chicken. I hope her clucking around your bedroom didn't wake you up. Well I called to the fairy boss and she came straight over and sorted the whole mess out. She is a very powerful fairy. In no time Truffles was back to a cat, your fairy dust was delivered, and your tooth was taken safely back to fairyland.

But just as I was flying out of your room I noticed something...this egg – freshly laid by Truffles you cat!! Maybe you can have it for your breakfast – yum yum.

Lots of Love, Your special fairy Sparkle-Bottom xxxx.

I think Belle must have felt very blessed to be left an entire letter from the tooth fairy. Seems fairies too can have funny little accidents!

Blessings, Yvette

KOORRDJENANGINS NEWS

A few weeks ago, several people asked about the verse the Koorrdjenangin Class recited at assembly - these are the words that we recite daily, keeping this language alive within ourselves.

Koorrdjenangin Morning Verse

Wanju. Welcome. This is Noongar land

We're learning Noongar language; we're striving to understand

We see the seasons changing; here at our bushland school

We know its Birak at Christmas and at the start of the school year it's Bunuru.

When April comes and Djeran arrives, it's only two months to Makuru

Then, finally the land's green, wongin; our garden soil is wet through

When Djilba arrives, we're bushwalking; each and every week

There's Yonga, the grey kangaroo; in the skies its Warlitj, the wedge tailed eagle we seek

Towards the end of the year, Kambarang is with us again

The sky blue, worl; Kulbardi, the magpie our friend

We count on our fingers; Keny, Kudjal, Dabmart and Mo

That's one to four in Noongar, in case you didn't know!

We can go higher; Mara - Keny for five, Mara - kudjal for ten

Kumbar is plenty or many, but that's where we will end

Each day at play, wabiny, we jump Bardang so high

The black crow Wardang sees us, and releases a joyous cry

Kaa- kaa the kookaburra, wiroo, the owl of brown

These are some of the birds, which fill the air with sound

If we walked, Barn, down the hill to the river Swan

We'd see the black swan Marli and maybe pelican Budalang

We could swim Djabaly, we could climb Dhandang the trees

We could stand, Yaak, or throw Korrdidj, or rest in the gentle breeze

This place here is ancient; we seek to understand

We thank the Noongar people; the custodians of this land

Anna Brindal

THE WAYFARERS PLAY: PERSEPHONE.

The rehearsals had ended and the magical sound of glorious singing was still resonating throughout the hall. There was an added pressure for us all tonight. As it was an evening performance, I had decided to work with some different lighting throughout the play. There was no opportunity for rehearsal with the lighting and I had personally never tried it before. I really wanted a yellow light to light up the God of the Sun Helios, but only had the white light for Hermes. Would you believe it, when I got home to the banging and crashing of bathroom renovations, our renovator had just the kind of light I was after and was kind enough to loan it to me for the play....Thank you Glen!

I took this as a sign that the experiment with the lighting was meant to be, the show will go on! Costumes were on, props were in place and the stage was set. Some tears had already been shed and some were still forming as the pressure was mounting. Firm but loving refocusing was called for and cuddles were dished out where needed.

The darkness began to settle and the front doors were opened. In the kitchen, as the throngs of parents and friends began to enter the hall, the excitement felt by 23 children and one teacher was now being contained with deep breathing and a strong focus on helping peers to settle rather than feed off each other's excitement. What amazing children; the way they held themselves was quite unbelievable. This is a wonderfully strong community of children who hold each other in the most beautiful ways.

Our performance on Thursday had left a few children feeling disappointed and the feedback we received was that the children were difficult to hear. Throughout the day we worked on voice projection and had conversations regarding connecting with each other and not smiling at individuals in the audience and also, remembering that when you're on stage even though you're not speaking, people will still be watching you!

On Friday evening however, the children really stepped up and the work we did on voice projection throughout the day paid off. Nerves? What nerves? When we get it right, the Wayfarers beautiful singing gives me goosebumps and this evening was no exception. My only regret is that I was not out in the audience to see the play from that perspective. Selfish, but true!

Congratulations Wayfarers. What an amazing performance! - !!! THANK YOU!!!

Special thanks go to those who helped pack up the hall and to Rod Carter and Scott Tancred for taking the gear back up to school. Also to those who were able to help us out with props, in particular Colin Strachan and Amitiel for creating Helios' golden halo, Poseidon's trident and Athene's spear and Pete Ballard for Zeus' lightning bolt. Finally to the group of mums who met at Vivian's house a couple of weeks ago under Katie's creative guidance, to sew the costumes for the gods. THANK YOU!!!

PARKING AT SILVER TREE

Thank you to all those parents who are keeping the traffic flowing by parking in the parent's car park only. We understand if there is overflow, some parents have been parking further down the drive, keeping as far left as possible to stay off the road. Once the parking lines are drawn, this overflow will most likely not need to happen.

There are a few parents who have gone back to parking in the Staff Parking lot or on the turning circle. Although it may seem to make sense to you that you are "just running your child in" please remember that by doing this, you are either blocking a teacher's space (who may be arriving for a lesson at any time) or causing other parents difficulty in turning in the circle. In addition to this, at any time we may have a bus or large vehicle turn up which will not be able to turn easily if you are parked there. Please be respectful to the rest of the community and mindful of the safety of our children by parking in the parent's car park only.

POLICY OF THE WEEK - SAFEGUARD OF STUDENTS POLICY

Silver Tree Steiner School considers the safety and security of its students to be of the utmost importance. When parents/guardians deliver their child to school they have an expectation that they will be protected at all times. The Administrator/Principal is responsible for the daily management and control of the school grounds, including all persons on the premises. This is in order to provide for the safety and welfare of students and staff on the school premises. The objective of this policy is to strive to provide safety and security for all children in the school by ensuring all persons who enter the school grounds are known or supervised at all times.

The Safeguards of Students policies cover some of the following activities;

PICK-UP AND DROP-OFF OF CHILDREN AFTER OR DURING SCHOOL HOURS - Parents are asked to notify the school in writing annually (preferably beginning of each school year), if there have been any changes as to who is a permissible person to pick up their children from school including emergency situations. Any changes during the school year must be put in writing and submitted to the office. In unforeseen circumstances (short notice) a phone call to the office is necessary notifying the teacher of alternative pick up arrangements. All persons collecting and/or bringing children at alternative times other than the beginning or end of the school day must report to the office and sign the visitors' register. Persons taking children during school hours to regular appointments can provide details in writing once only specifying the times, dates and purpose for the child's absence.

VISITORS - All visitors visiting during school hours must report to the office and sign the Visitors' Register on arrival and departure. During their stay at the school they should be accompanied by the staff member they are visiting or an approved escort at all times.

LIFE AT SILVER TREE

The Perth Waldorf Students enjoy the sun while a select few work with Peter Grant on their surveying project.

What a joy it has been to begin the Wayfarers on their Woodwork journey this year. We jumped straight in with both feet (and hands!) on our first project last term, making our own Jarrah Swords. The children began by drawing out their sword on paper, then choosing just the right piece of wood from our woodpile and transferring their design onto the Jarrah. I am always amazed at the determination of these children as I watch them cutting and then rasping the wood by hand. Most of the wood chosen is often thick and being Jarrah, it is hard work!

After all the sawing and rasping, comes sanding - again, much determination and hard work is called upon (the teacher too is called upon occasionally to show how much smoother they can be!) So after another round of finer grade sandpaper, they each had a chance to woodburn a design onto their sword or wrap leather around the handle. A quiet, calming session of waxing our now beautifully smooth swords with some beeswax and voila! Project completed! Well done Wayfarers - one very proud teacher here! Watch this space this term as we embark on the very challenging task of carving our own animal figurines! Marijanna

SILVER BLOSSOMS
OPEN: Mon - Fri 8:30 - 9:30 &
Thurs 2pm - 3pm

Have you heard of Sphagnis???

Sphagnis are peat moss and plant oil emulsions used externally as a moisturiser to envelop the user in a protective cocoon, helping withstand and protect against outside influences.

We have a range of scents available in the shop including...

Sphagni Rose ... allows the heart to remain open while offering a protective shield to the wearer.

Sphagni Lavendulae... is used to calm an over-active nervous system and bring one back to oneself for a feeling of balance and calm when everything feels like it is on red-alert and all the senses are heightened.

Sphagni Rosemary ... will awaken the senses. It will invite in the warmth process, stimulating an inner strength and uprightness.

Sphagni Santili... better known as Sandalwood, can be thought of as a gentle Lavender and may be preferred to Lavender by some.

Sphagni Citri ... or lemon, has cooling and mediating properties.

Sphagni Eucalypti... has an affinity for the Rhythmic System, likened to the Rhythmic System's balancing and mediating properties.

Sphagni Hyperici... has a beautiful rich colour, filled with the light of the sun

All Sphagnis are handmade in small batches in Tasmania

The Roster... new term, new roster. Please see Crystal Druantia or put your name of the roster outside the shop door.... remember FREE coffee!!

CLASS 1 TEACHER

Silver Tree Steiner School has in excess of 145 students from Kindy to Class 6. The school offers a beautiful environment located on 25 acres of semi-rural land in Parkerville WA. The school first started in 1997 as a playgroup in the hills of Darlington, and has developed into the wonderful school we have today. The School is a Sustainable school and students take part in setting up and maintaining organic fruit and vegetable gardens. Like most Steiner Waldorf schools, our school is an independent, co-educational and non-sectarian day school, welcoming children from all backgrounds and cultures.

Due to continual growth we seek a Class 1 Teacher beginning in Term 1, 2015. As the Class 1 Teacher, you will deliver lessons in accordance with Steiner Education and teaching principles; focusing on the interests and needs of the students. In Steiner education, a teacher is placed with their class for the entire school journey, so ideally applicants with the willingness to complete the 6 year journey through to Class 6 will be highly regarded.

In order to be successful in this position you should be able to demonstrate experience as a Teacher and have an understanding of Steiner pedagogy and philosophy. You will need a high level of interpersonal skills with a flexible and positive attitude. Other selection criteria include the ability to obtain a Working with Children Check and current and on-going Registration with the Teachers Registration Board.

To apply, please send a covering letter and resume outlining your training and experience as well as the contact details of 3 referees to;

Mrs Donna Bieundurry, School Administrator
Silver Tree Steiner School, 695 Roland Road, Parkerville
or email welcome@silvertree.wa.edu.au
Applications close 5pm, 20th June 2014

Butter Chicken with Red Lentil Dahl & Rice

Ingredients

1kg boneless chicken thighs or for vego option 1kg potatoes peeled & halved.

Halved 125g ghee

1 onion, chopped

Salt and pepper, to season

125ml (½ cup) thickened cream

¼ cup chopped coriander leaves

Steamed basmati rice, to serve

Marinade

400g can crushed tomatoes

190g (1/3 cup) yoghurt

4 garlic cloves, crushed

90g (¾ cup) ground almonds

2cm-piece ginger, grated

6 cardamom pods, bruised

2 tbs brown sugar

2 tsp garam marsala

1 cinnamon quill

½ tsp ground cloves

½ tsp chilli powder

2 tbs tomato paste

1 pinch of saffron threads

Red lentil Dahl

2 tsp vegetable oil

1 onion, chopped

1 long green chilli, chopped

1 ½ tsp cumin seeds

1 ½ tsp black mustard seeds

1 ½ tsp ground cumin

1 ½ tsp ground turmeric

3 curry leaves

1 tomato, chopped

200g (1 cup) red lentils, rinsed, drained

400ml can coconut milk

Tomato Salsa

200g grape tomatoes, quarter

½ small red onion, chopped

1 small bunch coriander leaves

RECIPE cont...

Method

- To make marinade, combine all ingredients in a 6-cup capacity baking dish. Add chicken/potatoes then rub marinade all over. Cover and refrigerate for 1 hour to marinate.
- Preheat oven to 180C. Melt ghee in a small frying pan over medium heat. Add onion and cook, stirring, for 3 minutes or until softened. Add to chicken mixture and cover dish tightly with foil. Bake for 40 minutes. Remove foil and bake for a further 15 minutes or until very tender. If using potatoes just bake for 20 mins.
- Meanwhile, to make dhal, heat oil in a medium saucepan over medium heat. Add onion and chilli and cook, stirring, for 3 minutes or until softened. Stir in seeds and spices. Cook for a further 1 minute or until fragrant. Stir in remaining ingredients and 250ml (1 cup) water. Bring to a simmer, then simmer, partially covered and stirring occasionally, for 25 minutes or until lentils are cooked and most of the liquid has been absorbed. Season with salt.
- To make salsa, combine all ingredients in a bowl. Season.
- Stir cream and coriander through chicken, then season.
- Divide rice among serving plates and top with chicken and sauce. Spoon dhal and salsa to the side and garnish with coriander to serve. Serves 4

APARTMENT FOR RENT DURING THE SCHOOL HOLIDAYS

Greetings to our international Waldorf's friends! Greetings from Croatia – the native country of Rudolf Steiner. I'm a mom of a Waldorf's student (boy, 12). We live in Opatija and we are offering our apartment during the summer holidays for rent.

The apartment is a large (100m2) and comfortable accommodation, located on the ground floor of Villa st. Maria, in the exclusive location by the sea. It is air conditioned, with two bedrooms, living room, kitchen and bathroom. There is a direct access to the garden and shaded pergola. The apartment can accommodate 4 people (plus 2 extra beds if required). Price per week is 1.050 €.

Villa st. Maria is located half way between Opatija and Volosko, ten minute walk from the centre of Opatija and all amenities (post office, bank, markets, restaurants and shopping). The Villa is next to the renowned coastal walk, beautiful turquoise pebble beach suitable for children, with the playground next to it. On the other side of the Villa is one of the most attractive terraces of Opatija – hotel Belveder, Wellness Centre Miramar and Casino Rossalia.
